Mitchell AC Leases Tract for Play Fields

Plan Worked Out
With Levee District To Expand Youth Programs

A request by the Mitchell Athletic Club for use of a tract of ground owned by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, to be used for an athletic area for youngsters, was granted by the levee district board of trustees in regular meeting, yesterday.

The board authorized a year-to-year lease, for $1 per year, on a tract located just west of Maryville road at Old Alton road. The tract is about 300 feet wide and 1500 feet long.

James Corey, 620 English place, president of the Mitchell Athletic Club, and Stanley Lucas Jr., 738 Ashland street, chairman of the club's land committee, represented the club at the board meeting to point out that the directors of the organization plan to build baseball diamonds, a football field, soccer field and a basketball court on the grounds.

The request was presented to the board by William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk of Venice, and a member of the levee district board.

Improvement Plans
Plans call for knocking down a section of an old levee and grading the grounds. Corey told the levee board that the club now has "several hundred" youngsters participating in its program and that more room is needed for the athletic schedules. He said the club is spending considerable money in promotion of the athletic program, most of which is provided by proceeds from an annual "Fall Festival."

This year's festival is to be held Aug. 26 and 27 at the old Parish grounds in Mitchell.

The levee board also approved a resolution fixing the levee district's total assessed valuation for the 1967 tax year at $380,534.64 and instructing the city clerk to certify this figure to the county clerks of Madison and St. Clair counties in which levee district property is located.

The resolution set the Madison county assessment at $233,614.89 and the valuation for St. Clair county at $346,919.53.

July claims amounting to $30,788 and a July payroll of $24,333 were approved by the board, which also authorized payment of a $108 bill by Horner & Shiffin for engineering work on the Lansdowne Sewage treatment plant project.

New Law Permits Rural Police District

A bill that would permit establishment of a police protection area in the unincorporated area of Madison county was introduced in the Illinois General Assembly by Gov. Kerner and has attracted interest of officials of Chouteau and Pontoon Beach.

The bill would be under the supervision of the county sheriff's office. Supervisors Walter Sparks of Chouteau township and Harry Briggs of Nameoki township said they expect the new law will be discussed at their town board meetings which will be before the county board of supervisors meets next Wednesday. It is possible the county board also may take it up.

The Chouteau town board is due to meet on Saturday and the Nameoki town board next Tuesday. Both supervisors said they want to get more information on the bill prior to their town board sessions.

While a synopsis of the new bill specifies the creation of such a police protection district would require a countywide referendum, called by petition signed by five per cent of all residents in unincorporated areas, Briggs said he believed the districts could be established on a township basis with supervision by the sheriff's office.

"The bill was discussed earlier this year by a legislative committee of the Township Officers' Association, and at that time the establishment of police protection districts was on the township basis," Briggs said, adding that details may have been changed at the last minute by the legislators.

Residents of unincorporated areas long have complained that police protection has been inadequate, and in recent years efforts have added complaints of being shortchanged for covering 23 townships.

The county board would be empowered to set up a merit board of three members to certify approval for deputy sheriffs in the police district and would remove them if they were participating in politics or were ineligible. The board members would be selected by the sheriff with the advice and consent of the board of supervisors.

The seven-month 507 birthrate for the entire Quad-Cities compares to 515 for the same period in 1966, 606 in 1965 and 604 in 1964.

Deaths in the area are on the increase this year. The 36 occurring in July, while below the 37 recorded for June, increased the year's total to 294 for seven months, compared to 288 for the same period of 1966, 257 in 1965 and 254 in 1964.

A breakdown of this year's vital statistics by months, showing births and deaths in this order, follows:

January—54 and 58, February—61 and 30, March—61 and 42, April—53 and 53, May—68 and 28, June—75 and 37 and July—100 and 36.

Construction of a 30,000-kilowatt "peaking plant" as an addition to the Union Electric power plant at Venice is nearing completion and should be placed in use the latter part of this month or early September.

A Union Electric spokesman told the Press-Record the new supplementary power unit will cost $3,300,000 by the time it is placed in operation.

Installation work has been under way since early this year. The plant will provide additional power for short periods when the main Venice power plant reaches the peak of capacity through unusual demands for electric power. This frequently occurs in the summer months, the spokesman said, when extremely warm weather causes an upsurge in demand for electric fans, air conditioners and other equipment.

The unit will be fired by oil rather than by coal which is used in the main Venice plant. The main plant has a power capacity of 513,000 kilowatts. Overall power capacity of the Union Electric system is 3,800,000 kilowatts.

Age-Old Problem of Dumping Still Plaguing Madison County
By WILLIAM F. WINTER
(Second of three articles)

A thousand years ago, Indians created this area's first landfill. Similar dumping problems continue to this day, despite vast technological advances that the passing centuries have brought.

Much refuse can be treated to decompose or to change into a useful product, but some solid and semi-solid material remains that the volume has grown with the population increase. After being compacted into the smallest possible space, the irreducible remainder still is disposed of by being buried underground.

The Cahokia Indian tribe, discovered in 1962 and 1967 at Cahokia Mound State Park, created 150,000-foot garbage pits. Still odorless, buried matter found there this year included nut husks, kitchen pottery, animal bones and shells.

On County Board agenda, the trash, garbage and junk produced by modern inhabitants also must be put somewhere and is the subject of a lively controversy that may see further developments.

Why Chouteau Was Chosen
1. Chouteau is on the western edge, where the bulk of the county population is located. The shorter distance that trash must be hauled, the better the cost ratio.

2. The township is situated directly between the two major population centers—the Quad-Cities and the Alton-Wood River area—and is served by an excellent network of highways. About midway along the county's river coastline, Chouteau offers economic advantages over sites far to the north or south.

3. Chouteau township—particularly Chouteau Island, the section between the Mississippi River and Chain of Rocks Canal—includes low areas that in some cases could benefit from being built to a higher grade.

Two Sites Adjacent
4. The new 68-acre Chouteau site may be leased by the city of Madison, Chain of Rocks Bridge owner, to Leo Abel and William Miller is immediately next to the existing Chouteau Island Landfill Corp. Such proximity means zoning standards for comparable land usage.

5. The 60-acre proposal "got there first with the most." It secured the approval of Clifford and the Sanitation Committee of the county board June 19, 1967.

County's Dump Ban May Go To Court

Mandamus Proceeding
Suggested to Test
County Board's Action

A mandamus proceeding to clarify the legal status of a county board resolution banning use of Madison county landfills by persons outside the county was main until Chief Ronald Veizer suggested last night at a meeting of county officials for discussion of mounting landfill problems.

Alternative to a test case of the ban against outside refuse dumping will be a move on the floor of the county board of supervisors to rescind the resolution which originally was passed in last month's regular board meeting by a motion by Gilbert Killinger, Collinsville supervisor, according to Carl Buehler, Granite City assistant city manager and chairman of the county board's Sanitation Committee.

Last night's meeting in the supervisor's meeting room at the courthouse in Edwardsville was called as a committee session for the Sanitation Committee and the county board steering committee made up of chairmen of ten of the major county board committees.

Buehler, by a delegation of about 30 Chouteau township residents who have been opposing installation of a proposed new landfill, and two attorneys who represent them.

Denied Right to Speak
Mrs. Ferd Segar, chairman of the Chouteau delegation, said the attorneys and Chouteau residents who were at the meeting were refused the right to speak, although they were permitted to attend the officials' discussion.

East St. Louis, one of the attorneys for the delegation said the group "collectively" was denied the right to speak. It was his intention to present evidence that Buehler's action was "unlawful."

They have a serious problem involving disposal of waste and garbage, but the county will make a drastic mistake if it sits back and says "There's nothing we can do about it."

Buehler pointed out the meeting was called only as a committee session to discuss the knotty problem of refuse disposal. The board's unanimous approval of

Jelf to Retire as GC Assistant Police Chief

Floyd Jelf, assistant chief of police, is retiring from the Granite City police department, effective Sept. 1, following 22 years of service.

He will receive a disability pension, having injured a foot several years ago which has not responded adequately to treatment. As his vacation starts today, his active duty has ended.

Chief Jelf said he decided to retire at this time after having considered taking the step last Jan. 1. At that time, however, Police Chief Raymond Willard retired and Jelf was asked to remain outside the county was main until Chief Ronald Veizer became acquainted with his new duties.

His father was a policeman on the Granite City department for more than 30 years before he was appointed, Jelf recalled.

During his service, Chief Jelf declined to comment on expenses, saying that they were "too numerous to mention."

He and his wife reside at 1100 Twenty-seventh street. He said they plan to remain here but may go to Florida about the first of the year to give living conditions there a try, though there is nothing definite about it. They have a house there.

Two Motorbike Riders Hurt in Separate Mishaps
Two motorbike riders were injured in separate accidents this week and were among the 12 persons hurt in seven of 21 crashes. In a two-car crash on Interstate 270, five persons were hurt.

Haskell Cook, 41, of East St. Louis, was injured when he was thrown from a motorbike at 8:25 p.m. Wednesday at 29th Street drive. The front wheel apparently had locked, throwing him on to the pavement. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions and abrasions to his head and elbow and was released.

Dennis Durbin, 20, of 1644 Venice avenue, was injured when the rear of his motorcycle was struck by an auto on the Third Street expressway at 5 p.m. Wednesday. He said another auto had pulled out in front of him and he was unable to stop. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for contusions and abrasions to his head and elbow and was released.

Mayor's Veto Cuts GC Budget $108,650
Granite City's $2,271,723 budget for 1967-68 was cut by $108,650 by Mayor Partner, whose veto of 12 items withheld an onslaught by the Granite City council Monday night. The new total of the budget is $2,163,073, or $82,340 less than last year's appropriation.

A motion by Alderman Boyd to override the veto received a vote of 10 "for" and 5 "against," falling by one vote. Only Alderman Nolen, who is on vacation, was absent.

The mayor eliminated from the budget the following items: $20,000 for contract work; curbs repairs; $7500 for two new dump trucks and $10,000 for a new high lift machine for the street department; and $5000 for the city of an inspector for the Air Pollution Control Board.

City Clean Air Board Gets Boost From State

Klassen Says Greatest Need is Fulltime Staff
For Enforcement Here

Words of encouragement were received Tuesday night by commissioners of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board who met at the city hall with Clarence W. Klassen, technical secretary for the Illinois Air Pollution Board.

Klassen was in the area to turn over to the state Air Pollution Control Board's office at Collinsville a mobile air sampling unit.

The unit is the first of its kind to be prepared by the state, and while it will be in East St. Louis for several months to a year, four other such trailers are being equipped and at least one is to be assigned here.

Representatives of the meeting here with the state official, the local clean air board chairman, Henry Bienencki said the commissioners were advised it is a state policy to encourage local control of air pollution—a job that eventually must be done on a local basis.

Aid Offered by State
The state staff's function is to assist local units with laboratory analyses, special monitoring and technical advice, and to periodically review the local enforcement program for effectiveness.

Granite City's biggest problem will be to get a full-time staff, Klassen said. He added that a smaller community in northern Illinois was able to employ a retired chemist as a technical secretary.

Bienencki said the local board currently is reviewing the application of local units with laboratory analyses, special monitoring and technical advice, and to periodically review the local enforcement program for effectiveness.

In encouraging the local board in obtaining an exemption certificate, Klassen stressed the two basic requirements are establishment of a fulltime enforcement staff and a demonstration of effective air pollution abatement.

Under exemption status, a local board has single jurisdiction; without exemption status, the jurisdiction is dual.

Local Program Progress
The state official was advised the board plans to request letters-of-intent and air contaminant emissions reduction programs from local industry in the same manner as the state staff recently required.

"It was agreed," Bienencki said, that the local and state staffs should cooperate closely in evaluating the proposals submitted by local industry. The request for letters-of-intent are to go to local industries within the next few days.

Klassen was accompanied here by Robert French of Springfield and Anton Telford, Otto Klein.

Street, Highway Safety Survey Near Completion

A survey designed to make city streets and highways in Madison county more safe during the next 10 years is nearing completion and may lead to federal funds for state and local governments.

The survey, requested by the U. S. Department of Transportation, centers on estimates of funds needed through 1976 for adequate safety measures, including employment of traffic patrolmen, removal of dangerous signs and obstacles from near roads, straightening of bad curves, widening of narrow roads, purchase of emergency vehicles such as ambulances and helicopters where needed, debris removal and traffic control devices.

Granite City, Alton, Collins-

ville and Edwardsville are gathering their own information, while the work is being done by the county for other areas. The surveys will be forwarded to state highway officials at French Village for an 11-county regional report and then to Springfield for a state safety program which will go to the federal government.

It was estimated that 10-year needs will total $8,971,270, with about half for police traffic services.

The survey is the result of the 1966 highway safety act passed by Congress to guide it in appropriating funds on a grant or matching fund basis to states. The state will allocate 40% of federal funds to local governments and use the rest for state projects.

SIMAPC Directors Up Some Salaries, Adopt Pay Scale

Because present contract commitments will call for additional staff work during the next year, the executive committee of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has authorized the employment of additional help under a newly adopted salary schedule.

The committee, during a discussion of the new SIMAPC budget, also approved salary increases for Theodore Milkesell, director of the planning unit, from $17,500 to $19,500, and Charles McKinney, assistant director, from $11,500 to $13,500. It also transferred David Horton to a Planner II position with a salary range from $7,200 to $8,800 and Ronald Battoe to chief cartographer with a salary range of $6,200 to $7,200. The board authorized Milkesell to determine the amount of salary in each case.

The board also adopted the following salary scale to be applied hereafter: director, $19,500; assistant director, $13,500 to $15,500; planner IV, $10,500 to $13,000; planner III, $9,500 to $10,500; planner II, $7,200 to $8,800; planner I, $6,000 to $7,200; chief cartographer, $6,200 to $7,200; draftsman I, $5,400 to $6,200; draftsman II, $4,200 to $5,400; administrative assistant (bookkeeper) $4,000 to $5,000; secretary, $4,200 to $5,400; clerk-typist, $3,600 to $4,600, and typist, $3,000 to $4,000.

All salary adjustments will be made retroactive to July 1, the board decided. Decision also was reached to conduct a salary review annually.

Plans were discussed for a public hearing on the new budget during September, a date for which will be fixed later.

B&PW Plan 'Space' Theme For Activities in 1967-68

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club launched the 1967-68 club season at the annual picnic in connection with a short business meeting at Wilson Park last night.

Fresh from the national B&PW convention held in New York City, Mrs. Batson, club president, appeared in a space suit to emphasize the theme for the year "All Systems Go." The suit was a copy of that worn by Sally Cunningham, national president, at the convention.

Many new ideas for the year were presented to the members by Mrs. Batson, and Florine Read, program coordinator, reported on the many interesting programs to be held during the forthcoming months. Ruby Jackson gave the membership report and announcement was made that membership is now available.

Employee Alfred, co-chairman of finance, announced plans for the annual fashion show and card party to be held at the Elks Club Oct. 15.

The theme this fall will be "Round Up of Midway's Day." The fashion show will kick off a round of events in celebration of National Business Women's Week and tickets are now available from all the club members.

In a report on the national convention Mrs. Batson said that Miss Cunningham stressed personal development of each woman in business or professions to include higher standards, wider interests, greater cooperation and unlimited opportunities. The newly-elected national president for 1967-68 is Mabel McCannan of Wisconsin.

Forty members were present at the meeting last night.

Mechanics Strike Now in 11th Day

Representatives of the Automobile Dealers Association of Madison and St. Clair Counties and of Lodge 313 of District 9 International Association of Machinists were meeting again today in renewed efforts to settle an 11-day strike of auto mechanics and body men.

Approximately 400 members of the IAM lodge, in this area have been on strike since July 31 as the result of a dispute over wages. No progress was reported as the resulting of contract talks Tuesday. No session was held yesterday but discussions were resumed this morning at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Auto mechanics now receive $3.175 per hour, with body men receiving an additional 10 cents an hour. Members of the Automobile Dealers Association, including seven firms in Granite City, have offered a 5% increase of 16 cents per hour for the first year, 17 cents per hour for the second year and 18 cents for the third.

The offer has been rejected. The mechanics are demanding an increase equivalent to that obtained by St. Louis employees who also are on strike. St. Louis workers are members of IAM Local 777 and are negotiating their contract in talks separate from those of the Illinois employees. St. Louis workers are demanding a 10% increase.

Meanwhile, auto dealers are continuing business as usual and said car sales are being made.

Bend Road Youth Vying for State Tractor Championship

Charles Mueller, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mueller, 720 Layton road, The Bend, is competing at the state fair in Springfield today and tomorrow for the title of champion Illinois junior tractor operator.

If successful at the state level, the Madison high school student will advance to national competition later this year.

The Case 800 tractor has been designated for use by all entries, and Lakeview Equipment Co. has loaned a new vehicle for use by Mueller.

Annual Madison county tractor competition was inaugurated in the early 1960's at the suggestion of Melvin Boger, leader of the Sunrise 4-H club. The club has 24 members, aged nine to 17.

Minor damage resulted as an auto driven by Bonnie Miller, 2415 Cleveland blvd., came into contact with the left door of the parked auto of Arthur McFarland, 2610 Madison avenue, on the parking lot of the First Granite City National Bank at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Accident at Bank

The tractor then proceeded forward in slalom fashion through the same obstacles and backed through an area affording only three inches of extra space on each side of the eight-foot-wide wagons.

Mueller scored 35 points; the next best score was 120. Many who tried their hand failed to complete even the first backing maneuver.

Practicing at Farm

A similar layout has since been created on the Mueller farm to enable the local contestant to practice for the state judging.

Today's phase of the contest at Springfield includes a written examination on tractor maintenance.

Madison HS Band Invited to State Fair

Madison high school's 90-member marching band was one of 15 such bands across the state selected to participate in the opening day ceremonies at the Illinois State Fair tomorrow.

The entire band will bus to Springfield early Friday morning and take part in a parade across the downtown area beginning from the Capital Building, 11 a.m.

At 1 p.m. the band will participate in a review march past Gov. Otto Kerner and state dignitaries at the Fairgrounds.

The band members will be guests of the fair, and they have been invited to the grandstand show Friday night. The band is under the direction of William F. Ledbetter.

A survey by the Press-Record this week showed that the 14 Southwestern and 14 Midwestern Conference schools will play 129 games this fall, including 57 non-conference and 42 (84 pairings) league games.

The Southwestern Conference includes Granite City, Belleville, Edwardsville, Wood River, Collinsville, Alton and East St. Louis.

The Midwestern Conference consists of Madison, Bethalto, Highland, Cahokia, Roxana, Dupu and Triad, the latter a newcomer to the conference.

Both the GCHS Warriors, coached by James Morrison, and the Trojans of Madison high school, whose new coach is Harland Scheibel, will play nine-game schedules.

Guelker to Head SIU Intramural Program Here

Robert M. "Bob" Guelker, who coached St. Louis University soccer teams to five NCAA national championships, will join the Southern Illinois University staff at the Southwestern campus Sept. 20 to direct the intramural sports program.

Guelker will also hold the rank of instructor in the Education Division. Zadia Herold, chairman of SIU's faculty of health, recreation and physical education, reported.

Intramural sports at SIU include soccer, basketball, bowling, golf, tennis and volleyball, among others. There are no intercollegiate sports at SIU-SW, but Herold said Guelker will strive to develop one of the country's outstanding intramural programs.

All-America honors came to players on Guelker's soccer team 17 times in the nine years he coached at St. Louis University. Until he accepted the offer at Southern, he was also executive secretary of the Archdiocesan Catholic Youth Council in St. Louis.

Guelker is currently president of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. From 1960 to 1969 he was director of physical education at St. Louis Prep Seminary.

Mercer 2 Games Out of Lead With 5 to Play

With the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League season well into its final third, the three Granite City teams will try to gain ground Sunday as each opposes the team immediately below it in its division.

Mercer, the only local squad with a mathematical chance to finish first, will tackle third-place Pocahontas (8-8) in a Blue Division battle at Wilson Park.

The Granite Cityans' 11-6 won-loss record puts them two games in back of the pace-setting East Alton Ballees. The 22-game season includes three meetings with each team in the home division and two with each squad in the other division.

Also in the Blue Division, fourth-place Granite City Steel Credit Union (7-10) will host the last-place Collinsville Utes (1-15) at the Coolidge junior high school diamond.

Sacred Heart of Granite City also will be meeting a cellar-dwelling team, visiting the Red Sox for a Red Division contest at Maryville.

Hearts Tied for Third
Maryville has a 5-11 mark, while the Hearts and East St. Louis Polish-American War Veterans are deadlocked for third place with 7-10 records.

Polish-American will entertain East Alton (13-4) in the season's only game at Millstadt, Ill.

Troy's Red Birds, Red Division front-runner with 13 wins and four losses, will meet their closest rivals, the Collinsville Molitors (11-5) at Fletcher Field, Collinsville.

Competitions at Millstadt will begin at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, with the other four contests starting at 2:30 p.m.

Thompson Versatile
Latest league statistics show Bruce Thompson of Mercer not only leading the league in hitting with a .422 mark but also ranking fifth in pitching with a 1.89 earned run average. He has won 10 games and lost two and has recorded 89 strikeouts, more than anyone else in the league.

John Rains of Sacred Heart has a 5-1 won-loss record with a 1.57 ERA, second best in the league. Pat Harris of Credit Union, 3-2, is third with a 1.61 ERA.

In addition to Thompson's 442, the Mercer offense has been bolstered by Larry Ripka's .350 hitting and Don Grabner's .346.

A league meeting has been set for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the VFW hall in Collinsville.

Depot Unit Aids Search for 2 Missing Missile Loaders

The 50th Ordnance Detachment at the Granite City Army Depot, is reporting on the case of two highly combustible missile loaders which were unaccounted for after explosions and fires had rocked a munitions train derailed near Belleville last Sunday.

An automobile slammed into the side of the Louisville and Nashville train 1½ miles east of Wilson Park, and derailed 21 of the train cars. The driver of the auto was killed.

Fortunately, the incident occurred in the area of a corn field, away from people and buildings. Nobody was hurt as the huge configuration raged uncontrolled. Firemen were unable to approach the train for some time because of the intense heat of the flames and multiple explosions.

Of the 22 missile loaders on the train, 17 have been recovered intact, and the remains of three which were damaged but did not explode have been found. The Army is not yet able to give a final report on the case, but a Depot spokesman said, "The missile loaders are 21 feet long, two feet in diameter and weigh close to eight tons. They are used to propel the Sergeant missiles."

It was thought that they might have been detonated following the derailment, but investigators from the Fifth Army headquarters in Sheridan, Ill., are not yet convinced that the extent of the configuration was sufficient to account for this possibility.

Another possibility—that they were hurled far from the wreck area—has been discounted by the fact of the missile loaders' immense weight.

Anyone who can offer further information pertaining to the missile launchers should call local authorities or telephone the 50th Ordnance Detachment at the Depot, GL 2-7200.

MORE ABOUT County's Dump

Killing's resolution which called for amendment of the county landfill ordinance so as to prevent use of Madison county landfills by out-of-the-county trash haulers. The move was aimed primarily at St. Louis haulers who take large quantities of refuse to the Chouteau Island dump.

State's Attorney Leon Scroggins pointed out that Jack Clifford, county zoning, building and land administrator, could not enforce the proposed ban because it is unconstitutional. Therefore, he said, Clifford would be personally liable for losses incurred in landfill business in event land fill operators brought suit and established the ban was unconstitutional.

Clifford was asked during the meeting if Scroggins had instructed him not to enforce the proposed ban. Clifford replied that he had, on the contention that the ban was illegal. Clifford suggested the possibility of a mandamus proceeding, which would have to be filed by an individual, to test the question of legality in court. Buehler reportedly told Clifford after the meeting that he was agreeable to such a plan.

Leslie Preen, Wood River supervisor, rejected a proposal by Buehler that the county board Steering committee, of which Preen is chairman, recommend to the board that the Killing resolution be rescinded. A two-thirds vote would be required.

Up to Sanitation Committee Preen told Buehler that he believed the decision in the matter was up to the Sanitation committee and not within the province of the Steering committee to take action one way or another.

The Steering committee was created earlier this year to assist other committees in resolving particularly troublesome issues and to keep members of their respective committees fully informed on such problems.

Buehler told the Press-Record that he knows of no particular anyone by name to file a mandamus proceeding.

Stutsman, as representative of the Madison County group, said he did not see how any court action could be filed on the issue in its present stage.

"The resolution passed by the county board is not an amendment to the landfill ordinance,"

Tentative School Budget Next Week

The largest financial decision facing Quad-City governmental agencies, the 1967-68 budget for the Granite City school district, will be considered for tentative adoption at a meeting of the school board at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Final budget action will follow a public hearing in September. Business scheduled for Monday night includes possible land and personnel decisions, dates of school opening events, hiring, purchases, 13 categories of bid awards, a fund application, park and recreation program and use of student teachers.

The district currently is taking steps to block any Illinois school employment in 1967-68 three teachers who resigned after the start of fiscal year July 1, Miss Doris M. Cann, Maryville grade teacher, Ralph Hermann, Edwardsville, a Granite City school industrial arts teacher, and Ruth E. Jones, a GCES English instructor. Hermann is taking a Missouri educational position and the others also are moving out of Illinois.

Additions to the faculty for the term beginning Aug. 30 include Mrs. Dolores Ann Ames, 2146 Adams street, 1967 SIU bachelor degree, an elementary teaching position; Miss Elizabeth Dreyer Baumann, Troy, Ill., 1967 MacMurray College bachelor degree, Stallings fourth grade; Mrs. Dorothy Talley Lyon, Wood River, 1967 SIU master degree and two years of teaching experience; Coolidge junior high school girls' counselor; and Jack Willis, Carterville, Ill., SIU bachelor degree and one year of teaching, high school German.

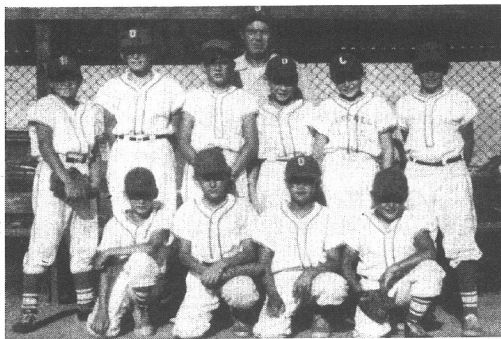

Four Hubcaps Stolen

Jerry Cicio, 1239 Oriole street, Venice, reported at 12:10 a.m. today that four hubcaps were stolen off his 1967 auto while it was parked on the lot at 16th street and Madison avenue.

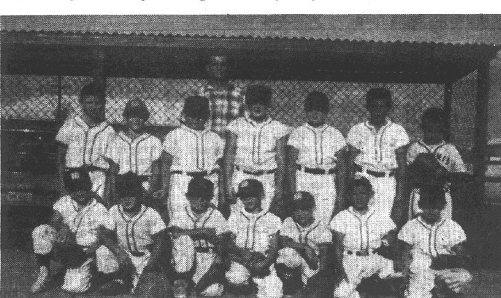

Stutsman said, "Therefore its enforcement as a law is open to question. The procedure, as I see it, is for the state's attorney (Scroggins) to draft an amendment to the landfill ordinance on the basis of the resolution and have it made a part of the landfill ordinance. This section of the ordinance, which would provide for enforcement, then could be challenged in court, or it could be enforced until one of the landfill operators brought proceedings challenging its legality."

Both sides in the landfill controversy agree that Madison county is facing a critical problem. New state and county regulations have forced the closure of many dumps and landfills and space in which to dispose of waste is becoming a critical matter.

Members of the Sanitation committee pointed out in the meeting that as of June 1 Madison county had 20 privately owned landfills and four municipally owned landfills. By Aug. 28, they said, there will be nine privately owned and four municipally owned landfills.

and Gary Rust of the state's office at Collinsville. Telford explained the equipment in the new mobile unit now is located under the MacArthur Bridge approach in East St. Louis.

Continuous Operation
The weather monitoring system operates continuously and its purpose is to develop a pollutant pattern. The unit contains 100 power plant in the event of a failure of a utility supply or it is located in an isolated area where electricity is not available.

In addition to gauges for wind direction and velocity that will be recorded, the units has automatic mechanism to sample and measure amounts of sulphur dioxide and particulate matters in the air. Each mobile unit costs about $15,000 and will aid in tracing sources of pollutants.

On the county level, the Madison county board of supervisors' air pollution committee met Monday evening at Edwardsville, but little or no progress was reported.

No Action by County

State's Atty. Leon Scroggins, who has submitted a model air pollution control ordinance, said the committee has not yet taken a stand on the ordinance, and that it is unlikely the proposal will be presented to the county board of supervisors at its meeting next Wednesday.

"The committee was formed," he said, "to conduct public hearings, but the members say they want all pertinent data before the hearings are held. If the committee had all the facts, then public hearings wouldn't be needed."

Scroggins said he went to Washington, D. C., to get data on air pollution control so the county could qualify for a $3 for $1 federal matching fund program.

The ordinance, he added, does not set up standards, but rather would be flexible in order to comply with any regulations which the state might set.

"All I ask is for the committee to act and either recommend the air pollution control ordinance for adoption or rejection."

The Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission has been asked to give a cost estimate on operation of a program, but a representative told the committee Monday night that such a figure was not available since the extent of the program has not been determined.

Scroggins said a county law could be applied to the unincorporated areas of the county and also to municipalities without clean air controls.

Greek Girl, 9, 'Adopted' Under Foster Parent Plan

Evangelia, a nine-year-old Greek girl, has two "fathers."

She lives with her actual father and her two sisters in a poor village in Northwestern Greece. A sickly man, her first father takes out a living as a vendor of odds and ends when he is well, his income is barely enough to support the family's basic wants.

A second "father" is Harold W. Kronsbein, 1511 Second street, Apartment 6, Madison. He contacted the Foster Parents' Plan, 322 Park Avenue South, New York City, N. Y., 10010, and was given Evangelia as his financially "adopted" ward.

Evangelia's third sister, Helen, is a former Foster Parent child. With such help, she is now self-supporting and lives and works away from home. She is saving money for a dowry.

Primitive Living Conditions

The house Evangelia and her other sisters live in is a one-story dirt-floor home with two rooms and a hall. They have a bed, two cats and no running water. The girls help in the fields and in tobacco sorting on the family's one-and-a-quarter-acre plot.

Because of Kronsbein's generosity, Evangelia is assured of having the money she needs to complete her education. She is a bright third grade student, and her favorite subjects are history and natural science.

Kronsbein and the Foster Parents' Plan also will supply Evangelia and her family with clothing, supplies and medical aid where necessary.

For the first time in her life, it appears that nothing stands in the way of Evangelia and her dream of becoming a school teacher.

The "adoption" is financial rather than legal. It costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year to become a foster parent. Foster parents often continue supporting the same child until he reaches 16.

FOSTER CHILD of a Madissonian, this nine-year-old Greek girl is being aided in completing her education Plan, an international agency through the Foster Parents by based in New York.

Guarantee Once Enrolled

If at any time the foster parent cannot continue, the child is assigned to another. Once enrolled, a child is assured of continuous care until he is capable of caring for himself.

As soon as a foster parent makes the first payment, he receives a photograph and a case history of his child. Soon the child's first letter (original and translation) arrives.

Every month the foster parents and child exchange letters. After awhile, the exchange of information develops a warm personal relationship that often lasts long after the child has become an adult.

A European child, "adopted" in 1955 when she was weak and undernourished, recently sent a wedding picture and a letter to her former foster parent in which she wrote, "You are always present in my dreams, as I cannot do anything else for you."

Began 30 Years Ago

The Foster Parents' Plan is 30 years old. Beginning with a tiny Spanish boy, orphaned by the Civil War, the organization now cares for 45,000 children around the world.

Originally the program stressed rescue and relief, but the emphasis today is on rehabilitation, not only for the foster child but his entire family.

In Korea and the Philippines, vocational training is given the foster child's older brothers and sisters. In Korea, for example, the director first lines up jobs in industry and then has the older sisters and brothers trained to fill the jobs.

The medical program is also stretched to cover the entire family on the theory that it is impossible to maintain a healthy child in a sick family. In many of the countries where the Foster Parents' Plan operates, fully-staffed medical clinics are available to its members of the foster child's family.

How Money is Used

The $15 monthly payment by an individual or group supports a child and his family. This sum provides a cash grant every month of more than half the total amount, plus clothing, household equipment, medical care and education, as well as guidance and counseling from and his staff of local social workers.

Over the past 30 years, the Foster Parents' Plan has graduated about 80,000 foster children as educated productive citizens—doctors, lawyers, teachers, mechanics, nurses and housewives. They say that they and their families will never forget "the generous foster parents who substituted help and hope for hunger, disease and despair."

Forty-five thousand children in Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Vietnam, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru are now receiving cash, material aid and "the feeling that someone cares." Thousands, however, equally needy, await foster parents.

Wide Participation

As the director in the Philippines said recently, "It's not much good to tell a widow whose children are starving that you'll be able to help her in six months—maybe."

Foster Parents' Plan is a non-sectarian, non-profit, non-propaganda, independent, government-approved organization. "Adoptions" and contributions are tax deductible. Its financial statements are mailed to anyone who requests it.

A foster parent may choose a child according to age, sex and nationality and the group will try to meet his specifications.

Foster parents include Sen. Javits, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Proxmire, Sen. Tower, former Sen. Douglas, Gov. Kohler, former Gov. Scrantom, former Ambassador Lodge, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Buddy Hackett, Helen Hayes, Conrad Hilton, Loretta Young, Art Linkletter, Red Martin, Garry Moore, Patrice Munsel, Mary Pickford, Robert Sarnoff and Cornelia Otis Skinner.

OWNERS ARE ADVISED TO PROTECT THEIR CATS

Cats are noted for their hunting habits. They can track birds, rodents and smaller animals as silently as any jungle killer. Among their prey are also raccoons and foxes. Some victims are found in cities; almost all of them in suburban places. These victims are subject to rabies and if your cat exposes himself by coming in contact with a bird or animal having rabies it can catch rabies and transmit it to his owner. Rabies in cats may be just as dangerous as from dogs. Be safe. Protect your cat against rabies just as you do your dog. See a veterinarian.

County Democrats to Parade To Springfield next Week

Between 600 and 800 Madison countyans, riding in about 200 decorated autos, are expected to participate in the annual Governor's Day Parade at the State Fair on Aug. 17. It was announced today by Walter "Buck" Simmons of Venice, Madison County Democratic Committee chairman.

Simmons said the joint venture with St. Clair county Democrats is staged each year, and the meeting point for participants next Thursday will be at the Livingston high school parking lot at 8 a.m.

Final judging of the decorated cars will take place at 8:30 a.m. before the caravan leaves from Springfield. Winners will be announced at the hospitality room in the St. Nicholas Hotel at Springfield after the caravan has paraded before the reviewing stand in the Governor's Day ceremonies at the Fairgrounds.

Simmons said Gov. Kerner will visit the hospitality room after the parade.

Chinese Now Among Top Nuclear Powers

Cong. Melvin Price (D), East St. Louis, veteran member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and chairman of its Research and Development subcommittee, said in Washington Tuesday that the Chinese possibly could launch ballistic missiles against this country by the early 1970's, but such an attack would be suicidal.

Congressman Price said the Chinese have made surprising progress in the development of a nuclear offensive force, noting that "the advances being made by China in development of nuclear weapons may pose a very real threat to our national security." He said their latest test, sixth in a series, has confirmed the prior opinion of the Joint Committee that the Chinese are making excellent progress in thermonuclear design, and now have the capability of designing a multi-megaton device available for delivery by aircraft.

The congressman also called attention to the relatively poor showing made by France in the nuclear arms race. He said the Red Chinese "have done in two and a half years with tests what the French have been unable to do in seven years with 35 tests . . . on the basis of this rapid rate of development I would have to rate the Chinese now as number 3 among the world's nuclear powers."

The present capability of the Chinese poses not only a threat to this country's national security, but also has implications for U. S. foreign policy in Vietnam and all of southeast Asia.

Armed Robber Given 2-4 Years in Prison

Ronald Wells Wright, 27, formerly of the YMCA, was sentenced to a term of two to four years in the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet Monday afternoon by Chief Circuit Judge James O. Monroe. Wright appeared in court to enter a guilty plea to armed robbery.

He was charged with the $23 holdup of Cline's restaurant, 2011 State street, on April 28. On the threat that a federal fugitive warrant would be obtained, Wright surrendered voluntarily to Granite City police on May 10.

An ex-convict, he had served three years in the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville for property and also served time in the Los Angeles, Calif., county jail for armed robbery.

Walkout at General Steel Ends Tuesday

A wildcat strike by crane operators at General Steel Industries Monday morning came to an end Tuesday afternoon and normal production was resumed Wednesday morning, according to company spokesmen.

The action came after negotiations by Steelworkers Union Local 1022 and company officials at the Labor Temple.

The walkout, which was unauthorized by the union, came after a crane man was suspended for three days following a damaging accident. About 70 crane men were off their jobs.

The status of the employee is to be determined through normal grievance procedures, it was reported.

No charges were filed and the two men at whose car the shots were fired are believed to have left the area, it was reported.

Venice School Budget Posted-- Up $98,954

Venice School District No. 3 will be confronted by aggregate deficits of $181,827 during the 1967-68 fiscal year, it was brought out Monday night when the school board gave tentative approval of a new appropriation ordinance totaling $1,032,137 for all school purposes.

The new budget is $98,554 more than last year's total appropriation of $93,554. The increase results primarily from a $60,112 jump in the educational fund and a $38,000 rise in the building fund.

Budget figures indicate the district will meet the potential deficit cash by drawing on its working cash fund to the extent of anticipated deficits in four separate accounts.

Venice School Supt. John Pier said funds appropriated for the educational fund will not take into account any possibility of faculty wage increases except by meeting the regular salary schedule.

Educational Requirements

Total requirements of the educational fund are fixed in the new budget at $805,395, compared to a figure of $736,283 extended for the 1966-67 fiscal year a year ago. The budget shows anticipated revenue of $686,800 from all sources in the educational fund. Considering a balance of $4315 at the beginning of the year, the district anticipates an educational fund deficit of $114,279.

Building fund expenditures are estimated at $129,702 for the 1967-68 year, up $30,000 over last year's budget figure of $99,600. Revenue for this account is projected at $71,259 which, along with a $4102 balance in the building fund at the beginning of the year on July 1 will leave a year-end deficit of $54,290.

Other potential deficits are listed in the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund totaling $571 and in the bonds and interest account in an amount of $5716.

Retirement Fund Down

The new appropriation for the retirement fund is $10,945, down $224 from last year's figure of $11,169. There was no balance in this fund and anticipated revenue amounts to only $3372, leaving the expected deficit of $7571.

Bond and interest appropriations total $33,437 for the current year, down $1888 from $55,125 budgeted last year. Revenue is projected at $51,435.

Budgets of other major accounts include $10,475 for the working cash fund, down $475 from last year's appropriation of $10,950, and the Transportation fund, $22,187, up $196 from last year's $21,991.

Last year the district appropriated $3550 with which to pay tuition of pupils attending junior colleges, but because of a $3000 balance in that fund, no new appropriation was made, Pier explained.

Must Repay Working Cash

Appropriation figures show that the various district accounts must divert part of their revenue toward repayment of money borrowed from the working cash fund during the 1966-67 year that ended last June 30.

Such repayments amount to $91,138, including $55,000 to be repaid from the educational fund, $20,000 from the building fund, $7713 from the bonds and interest account, $819 from the municipal retirement fund and $11,005 from the Title I and Title II Elementary and Secondary Educational accounts.

The new budget will be posted for public inspection and will be offered for final adoption in the September school board meeting.

Venice Police Probe Juvenile Beer Theft

An undetermined quantity of beer was stolen from a parked truck at the American Legion Home in Venice yesterday afternoon by a small boy who later served it to his friends in a Venice alley, and stole potato chips and other snack bits to go with it, Venice police reported today.

Police said they already have questioned several boys who gathered in the alley to drink the beer, but still are seeking the boy who stole it. The beer was removed from the parked truck about 1:30 p.m. yesterday. Police said they still have not located the truck driver who apparently did not know his supplies had been lifted.

Officers were called to the alley in the 900 block of Third street by a woman who said she saw the gang of boys in the alley and upon investigation found six quarts of beer, two six-packs and ten bottles of beer cached in her garage.

Boys who were questioned late yesterday said the boy who stole the beer asked them if they wanted some potato chips. He then went to Dunsmuir's confectionery nearby, and stole an entire rack of potato chips, fritoes and other snack items.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

MORE ABOUT Age-Old Problem

Of trash being brought to Madison county from nearby points in Missouri was one of the major factors that aroused Chouteau township residents to fight the latest landfill plan.

Citizens attending a protest meeting at Mitchell stressed that they do not object to Chouteau township burying the trash it produces, but that they do not want their community to become a regional dump for a wide area of Missouri and Illinois.

Quad-Cities Dump Elsewhere
The Chouteau Island tract currently being used as a site is closer to the Quad-Cities than any other area but, interestingly, does not now serve the Quad-Cities. Local municipalities use the Granite City dump in St. Clair county.

The 280,000 Madison county population includes the local cities and unincorporated territory, so the actual accumulation of trash that must be disposed of here does not reach the size indicated by the 50x65x20-foot estimate.

If the entire county and a considerable portion of the St. Louis-St. Louis county area were served by a landfill, it could net thousands of dollars a day, projections by Clifford show. The amount of potential profits for Abel, a Madisonian and former Madison city bridge employee, and Miller, a St. Louis long active in the scrap metal business in Venice, became an issue this summer.

$200,000 Initial Plan
Plans initially provided for a lease payment of $200,000 a year to the city, plus free dumping by the city.

Later, calling for at least 10% of the profits for the city, the Madison council reacted to citizens' comments and boosted the lease charge to $800 monthly, which Abel and Miller said they would be unable to pay.

A future financial compromise has not been ruled out. Chouteau residents, who have formed a committee to fight the new landfill, noted that at the time the Sanitation Committee approved a permit for the proposed landfill, the public was unaware of the project and also unaware that there had been an apparent authorization by Madison officials.

The citizens also pointed out that Abel was manager of the existing Chouteau Island dump at a time a misdemeanor regarding its operation led to a fine.

Given Permanent Dumps
Clifford lists the present Chouteau Island landfill and six others as having prospects of permanent operation, subject only to the limitations imposed by their size.

The others are the city of Madison dump in Marine township, the city of Highland dump in Helvetia township, the city of Troy dump (Taylor or private dump) in Jarvis township, the city of Collinsville dump east of the city in Collinsville township, the city of Hartford dump in Wood River township and the city of Edwardsville dump (Crown private landfill) in Fort Russell township.

The future of the Warner and Sanders dumps in Godfrey township is viewed as uncertain. Four others currently in operation are in the process of closing, Clifford reports.

The administrator says the present Chouteau Island landfill without expansion has a probable future life of two to three years.

Says No Political Pressure
Clifford admits talking with the new applicants in the presence of other county officials but says he does not feel that any pressure was exerted to gain a permit.

"Mayor Maerz of Madison has never asked me for any favors," he told the Press-Record.

Mitchell contends Madison officials for the new landfill proposal and said they felt that the Madison city hall political organization is influential with county officials and committees.

They stressed that amendment of the county zoning law to make landfills a special use had been under consideration since last January or February but was not acted upon until after the latest landfill permit was issued.

Clifford says that regardless of allegations of "politics," the only way he or the committee could view the plan was from the standpoint of whether it met all requirements of the county sanitary landfill law.

The Abel-Miller proposal meets all the stipulations and would be an asset to Chouteau township, the administrator believes.

Set for Sunday

Alton State Hospital to Observe 50th Anniversary

Alton State Hospital will celebrate its golden anniversary on Sunday, beginning at 1:30 p.m., with a basket dinner for all former, retired and present employees.

Officially, the hospital opened the summer of 1917. Prior to that time, approximately 40 patients were moved to Alton from Anna State Hospital, who helped complete construction of the original eight buildings. These patients were housed in the superintendent's residence, which formerly was the Eben Rodger's home, a prominent Alton family.

Dr. George Anthony Zeller was the first superintendent in 1917 and was transferred to Peoria State Hospital in 1921.

The homecoming type picnic will be on the grounds between the recreation hall and the specialized services building, however should inclement weather conditions prevail, the recreation hall will house the event. Refreshments will be served by the dietary department.

50-Year Displays
Picture displays depicting 50 years of service and growth will be on display in the recreation hall. The picture displays have been accumulated due to all interested persons making their collections available for this purpose.

Following the dinner hour, a short informal program will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent, will speak concerning the history of the hospital and Dr. R. C. Steck, acting Zone 7 director, will be the guest speaker. Also featured on the program will be the reminiscence of various events at Alton State with former employees Don Lewis, Culp Lane, Bethaller and the patient choir directed by Bess Westbrook, music therapist, will sing three selections. At the conclusion of the program, a state advising that they plan to from employees throughout the attend and take part in the festivities. An invitation is extended to all former and retired employees, as well as those presently employed, to be present on Sunday.

MORE ABOUT

by Pete Skundrich, building inspector, for failure to complete apartment houses started in June 1963 at 1601-40 Third street, it was reported.

Mayor Maerz remarked that city officials probably will be charged with "playing politics," as Ballentine has been an opponent in past municipal elections, but said that the builder had four years to complete the work and the city tried to get him to do it.

The council retained the firm of Hardesty & Hanover of New York as consulting engineer for the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge at a cost of $2200 per year.

The firm will make one inspection a year and will provide evaluations and consultations on repairs. It previously made two inspections per year for $4000.

The council agreed that a sidewalk and curbing should be placed in front of the home of Raymond Spiroff, 1202 Alton avenue, if the same rates can be obtained from General Contracting Co., which currently is installing curbs and walks along Alton avenue from 12th to Elizabeth streets.

A municipal service occupation tax of 3/4 of 1% was approved a second time by the council and will take effect Sept. 1. An ordinance providing the same tax, approved in July, was not acceptable to the state in its form.

It was decided to install a street light at the southeast corner of Seventh street and Alton avenue.

An annual audit of motor fuel tax funds by the Illinois Department of Public Works & Buildings for 1966 showed the city accounts to be in order.

HONORED AT MONDAY night's Venice school board meeting for long service as a board member was Roy Musick (right), who was presented with a plaque by Michael Leatherman, president of the school board. Musick served on the school board 20 years, resigned last April.

MORE ABOUT Mayor's Veto

taken out of the budget were $21,000 for curbs on Waterman avenue between Wabash avenue and Maryville road; $15,750 for improvement of 13th street between McCambridge and Granite avenues; $7500 for improvement of East 26th street; $5000 for resurfacing the 2100 block of Benton street; $5000 for resurfacing the 2500 block of Grand avenue; $7700 for curbs along Warren avenue from St. Clair to Faith avenue; $2000 for a survey for a new road from 22nd street to Pontoon road and $700 for a sidewalk along 26th street between Adams and Center streets.

Vote on Veto

Voting support of the mayor's veto were Aldermen Bartoskiak, Whitmer, Rutledge, Fry and Jarrett. Voting with the veto were the veto were Dallas, Moerlen, Poulos, Green, Basarich, Parmenter, Robertson, Dawes and Johnson.

In his veto message, Mayor Partney said he realized the need for the special improvements and the street department equipment—"but in the coming year, a number of streets that are in the special improvements will be torn up due to our sewer program."

"Also, it has always been my belief that we should operate as close to our income as possible and in the interest of the taxpayer. The reduction of an appropriation is for the taxpayer's benefit in its tendency to lessen the burden of taxation."

In objecting to the veto, Boyd pointed out the council had worked hard to hold down the number of special improvements. "The people are entitled to get some improvements."

Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, added that the street department will be hampered in its operation without new dump trucks to replace worn out ones.

Mayor Expands on Message

Expanding on his veto message, Mayor Partney told the aldermen the city's income would barely cover the reduced budget and that funds are needed in reserve in the event of an emergency.

In answer to Johnson's contention that curbs were needed for drainage along Waterman avenue where no program is planned for the immediate future, the mayor replied that the project could qualify for motor fuel tax funds.

Both Boyd and Robertson questioned the mayor's statement that income would not cover the budget if the veto was overridden. Robertson added that he did not believe the bond issue sewer improvements would touch 90% of the streets listed for special work.

The closing remark by the mayor was that if the council overrode the veto, then the responsibility of deficit spending would rest with the council and not the office of the mayor.

A request was made by Alderman Whitmer for the motion to override the veto as a whole to be broken down so each item could be voted upon individually. He asked City Atty. Allen for the proper procedure.

Allen replied that the only way would be for the motion to be withdrawn and restated for the individual item. Boyd refused to yield.

In other actions Monday night, the council adopted a resolution designating Horace Calvo, who is bond attorney for the sewer program voted last June, also to provide legal work for obtaining easements and right-of-way. His fee will be in accordance with the schedule set by the Madison County Bar Association.

Capt. John Haack Describes Vietnam Air War

BY MARION BARTOSIAK

How does it feel to complete 100 missions over North Vietnam?

For Capt. John Reed Haack of Granite City, a jet fighter pilot jockeying a hot F-105 Thunderchief, it was a joyous occasion, but apparently all wet, according to photographs he brought back with him.

They show him being met upon the end of his final bombing mission over communist Vietnam by his squadron commander and others who hustled him to the swimming pool at his Thailand base and dunked him in.

He chuckles upon recalling that he pulled a couple of the men into the pool with him, including the commander, Lt. Col. Fritz Trezz.

As Sweet as Wine
First of all, however, he was awarded the traditional bottle of champagne after his plane touched down at the Korat Royal Thai Air Force Base about 40 miles from Bangkok.

Other ceremonies included the award of a case of beer to his crew chief, Airman 1st Class T. T. Richard, for keeping his plane in top condition, a military review, and a ride on an old French 75 m.m. cannon.

Capt. Haack, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Haack, 2205 Edna street, returned to the United States recently where he joined his wife, Kathleen, and two children, Karen, 2½, and Paul, five months, in Toledo, O.

He and his family then visited his parents here until Monday when he left for his new assignment.

Commando Pilots

He will be instructing commando pilots of the 432nd Combat Crew Training Squadron, England Air Force Base, La., Zip Code 71304, and now will be using a YAT 37, a special commando airplane, a counter insurgency craft.

Before leaving for Southeast Asia last December, Capt. Haack discussed hopes to become an astronaut. He still wants to join the space program and plans to start making application with NASA.

The frivolity which met him a complete contrast to the work after his final combat flight was he helped perform in the Vietnamese war.

He was unable to comment publicly on details of the missions, but they included bombings of trains, barges and other transportation methods of transportation, rail yards, power plants, steel mills and bridges.

Blow Up Bridges

"We would knock out a bridge, but at times they would have replacement sections and the bridge would be back up the next day," he said. "We then would have to return and take it out again."

His plane was shot up on his 84th and 85th missions, and he was engaged in dog fights with Migs. But he remained unscathed, apparently as lucky in the air as he is at a poker table.

Another pilot used his plane on one flight, and it was shot down. He said he was disappointed, because it contained a Mine Run University (area fun group) sticker on the fuselage, which now lies on the bottom of the Gulf of Tonkin. The pilot was rescued.

Most Migs Destroyed

Capt. Haack said he did not have too much opposition from the Mig planes as most of them in North Vietnam had been destroyed.

A flight leader, Capt. Haack mentioned that occasionally he had difficulty in controlling other over-enthusiastic pilots who would take risks after spotting a prime target. He said that if a certain level of flight was maintained, the pilots were relatively safe.

"The flak was so thick," he said. "They used everything—

INTO THE DRINK he goes, but not without a couple of men with him as part of the traditional ceremony marking the milestone.

BB guns, sling shots, spears, bows and arrows in addition to the conventional stuff."

He likes to tell about visits to Buddhist temples in Thailand. "The monks gave us their blessing, and we were glad to get it. We needed all the help we could get."

Volunteered in Germany

Capt. Haack, 25, volunteered for service in Southeast Asia while he was serving in Germany where he also flew a Thunderchief.

He was commissioned as an Air Force officer upon graduation from St. Louis University in 1963 with magna cum laude honors. He received a degree in electrical engineering.

His friends believe he has all of the capabilities to become an astronaut and note that NASA officials now are selecting younger personnel. While in college, he also was captain of the university rugby team, though he now weighs only about 150 pounds and stands at 5 feet, 9 inches. He would not take up much space in space.

Born in Granite City, Capt. Haack attended Sacred Heart grade school and Assumption high school where he was valedictorian of his class.

His father is employed at General Steel Industries. A younger brother, James, is a graduate of Washington University and lives with his family in Memphis, Tenn., where he is an architect.

Before entering the service, Capt. Haack was active in the Boy Scout movement and served on the staff at Camp Sumner for a number of summers.

Proud of his service in the war, Capt. Haack said he would be willing to volunteer for another tour of duty. But he likes being with his family.

RETURNING SAFELY from his 100th and final mission over North Vietnam, Capt. John Haack of Granite City lands his F-105 Thunderchief at his home base at the Korat Royal Thai Air Force Base in Thailand.

SMILING BROADLY, but sweating heavily, Capt. Haack is toted by members of his Vampire squadron for a more thorough wetting, a dunk in the base swimming pool.

Local Collection of GC Taxes to End Aug. 18

Granite City taxpayers are running far behind last year in payment of their current tax bills, city treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich said yesterday in announcing plans to discontinue local tax collections Friday, Aug. 18.

Rich said collections thus far total $486,925 in personal property taxes, or 10% of the $3,015,999 billed for payment, and $2,263,409 in real estate taxes, or 60% of the $3,806,338 extended.

Actually, Rich pointed out, the percentage of collection is lower than these figures since the books also carry $144,495 in delinquent real estate taxes from prior years, and $126,062 in delinquent personal property taxes. Addition of the delinquent tax debt to the 1966 tax extension now being collected puts this year's overall tax bill in Granite City to $7,272,785.

Total collection of real estate and personal taxes amounts to $2,750,334, representing a 38% tax collection thus far, Rich explained.

Industries Yet To Pay
"A considerable amount of taxes will be paid by industries and utilities during the final days of the local collection period," Rich said. "However," he added, "collections at the local level by individual taxpayers are far behind what they were last year at this stage of collections."

The shut-off on local collections will be effective at 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18, Rich said. The books will then be balanced and returned to the county treasurer's office where taxpayers will be required to make any future payments.

Last year, the treasurer noted, his office collected 92% of all extended taxes by the time local collections were discontinued.

He said it is important that Granite City residents pay their tax bills at the office here since the city receives a 2% commission on all taxes collected. This money is used for city operational costs and in past years has run from $100,000 to $120,000.

After the books go to the county, local taxpayers will pay their and the county treasurer's office bills with an added 1% penalty which will receive a 3% commission on all collections, none of which goes to the city.

Jeffrey Wayne Siegrist Arrives

Minor damage was reported to autos driven by Donald Millonas, Belleville, and Eugene S. Garac, 4552 Edwardsville road, which collided at 5 p.m. Monday at 20th street and Madison avenue.

Where Does Detective Chief Vacation—At FBI Building

Chief of Granite City Detective George C. Teller, mixed investigation with pleasure as he, his wife, Dorothy and two daughters vacationed in Washington, D. C. recently.

Among the many places of interest which the Tellers visited in Washington were the Federal Bureau of Investigation, located in the U. S. Department of Justice Building, and the Finger-print Identification Section, which is located in another building separated from other FBI facilities.

In Washington the Tellers visited Robert Lyle Ball, an FBI fingerprint expert who flew to Granite City two years ago to testify for the Granite City police in a criminal case involving fingerprints.

Lynda, 20, remained in St. Petersburg for an extended vacation, while the other daughter, Sheri, 11, accompanied her parents home.

The Tellers have another daughter, Mrs. Donna Theis, and a son, Second Lt. Ronald George Teller, who is serving with the Army Artillery and Missile Division, Baumholder, Germany.

Money still talks, but very few people like to listen to a one-sided conversation.

Law Requires Libraries To Submit Audits

Public library districts will now operate under a new Law (H 510) governing auditing of the districts, it was announced today by Secretary of State, Paul Powell.

Under the provision of the act, which was approved by Gov. Kerner after being passed by the recent General Assembly, the treasurer of a library district is required to maintain complete financial records and submit them to audit. In districts of more than 10,000 residents the audit must be accompanied by the professional opinion of a certified Illinois public accountant.

"... there has been no evidence of tax administration in existing library districts," said Powell. "This measure was urged by the administration... as a common sense recognition of the need for prudent safeguards for public money."

Composition by Wade Performed on Formosa

The Taipei Symphony Orchestra to Taiwan (Free China or Formosa) on Aug. 5 and 6 gave the first performances of a new orchestral work by James Wade, entitled "Elegy for Orchestra," it was learned here today.

The work was presented under the direction of Helen Quach, Chinese-born and Australian-trained woman conductor who earlier this year won a top prize in the New York Metropolitan Conductors' Contest, and who will next season become assistant conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under musical director Leonard Bernstein.

The work by Wade, a Granite City-born composer who has resided in Seoul, Korea, for the past seven years, is adapted from his recently completed opera, "The Martyred," based on a best-selling novel about the Korean War by Richard E. Kim. The "Elegy" is dedicated to the memory of Chang Soo-chul, a Korean musician and friend of the composer who died last November.

Wade has been acquainted with Helen Quach for two years, since her Seoul debut in 1966, which he covered as music reviewer for The Korea Times. At present he is preparing a five-movement concert suite from his opera, at Miss Quach's suggestion, for possible future performance in the U. S.

Meanwhile, a full stage performance of the opera, "The Martyred," is being planned by Wade in the Korean National Opera Company in Seoul for next year.

Wade, who has written widely for international press media, is currently represented by an article on the Osaka (Japan) International Music Festival, appearing in the July issue of High Fidelity-Musical America. A book of his articles and stories will be published in Korea this November.

A. O. Smith Wins Award of Merit by Safety Council

A. O. Smith Corp. of Granite City has been awarded the nation's second highest safety citation—an Award of Merit of the National Safety Council—for overall improvement of the plant's safety performance in 1966, the plant manager, Paul Kemp, was advised this week.

The citation is based, in part, on a 1966 plant accident frequency rate of .33 last-year injuries per 1 million man hours. The plant's prior three-year accident frequency average was 1.9 and for the entire stamped formed metals products industry was 3.83.

The safety record of the Granite City plant contributed significantly to A. O. Smith Corp., as a whole, which received two awards of honor. These were awards for overall corporate safety improvement in 1966, and ent. Others, left to right are—Robert Colwell, James Sergott, Herman Byrd, Clifton Blankenship, Paul Kelly, Paul Kemp, Robert Hess and Jack Farley. The award was won for 1966 year.

Mayor Reappoints 12 Commissioners

Reappointments of officials to city boards and commissions were made Monday night by Mayor Partney and confirmed by the Granite City council. Renamed to the Air Pollution Control board were Henry Biebeck, chairman, and Theodore Macios and Alderman Samuel Whitmer. Their new three-year terms are to expire May 1, 1970. Reappointed to the City Plan Commission were David Morgan, E. G. Schmitt, Henry Lueders and Homer Huber; while re-named to the Zoning Board of Appeals were Fred Fostick, George Highfield and Glen Hollis.

Two members of the Animal Shelter Board reappointed were Mrs. Anita Eftimoff and Mrs. June Karandjeff.

Presidents and other top officials of 16 new community junior colleges from Seattle to Florida will tour the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University Monday.

They are making a cross-country trip by air, financed by Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., to see new buildings and campus complexes and seek information which can be helpful to them in planning facilities on their own campuses.

Local Collettes Quartet to Compete Friday at State Fair

BY ANDREW WILSON

If all goes well Friday at the State Fair for the "Collettes," a local singing quartet, they will share the "Cavalade of Music" limelight with Paul Revere & The Raiders and Sam The Sham & The Sparrows.

Such company would be nothing new for the "Collettes." At last year's State Fair, as a trio, they performed along side The Beach Boys and Sam The Sham. They won this distinction by placing second in the Fair's state-wide singing group competition.

This year they will have to do even better in the qualifying competition.

Select Groups

Only the winning singing groups in four categories will join the stars on bandstand before an expected audience of 25,000. Does the prospect of having to beat out several other groups phase Granite City's young singers?

"Oh, we're confident. We just HAVE to win," bubbled Robyn Robertson, 17, the newest and youngest member of the "Collettes." We're confident, but we're not over-confident," qualified her older sister Colleen, 18. Of course there are obstacles. The fact that the "Collettes" are cute, vivacious and thoroughly girlish might work against them, at least according to the quartet's piano accompanist and general manager, Richard McKenney, 21.

Last Year's Problem

"The judges tend to favor the boys' groups because they have a bigger sound and volume," he said. A boys' group won first place in the "Collettes" division last year at the Fair.

Another problem is the matter of jitters. Last year the "Collettes" went into competition with just one hour of sleep the night before. The hotels were all booked up, so there was no place to sleep, and they were all too excited anyway. They spent the night talking with each other and their parents in their cars.

Though they will have lodgings this time and they have been through the experience once before, "it will be even worse this year," according to Gloria Schiber, 18, "because now we have to take first place to go on the bandstand show."

5-Minute Program

The group will have five minutes to sing two songs, "What Now, My Love?" and "Name," on Friday morning. If they win, they will sing the songs again on the big bandstand show beginning 8 p.m. that night.

At least one of the "Collettes" is entirely nonchalant by the notion of performing before an audience of several thousand. "It was simply fantastic at the Fair last year," said Colleen, "the audience responded tremendously and after the show they swamped us for autographs."

Gloria sounded more timid about the experience. "I would have absolutely died if I could have seen all those people through the glare of the spotlight," she said. The other member, Candy Jones, 18, received an unexpected encore after the group's performance, when she went back out on stage to retrieve a shoe which slipped off as they were going out.

"They practice every night, and sing purely for the fun of it. The group will be temporarily broken up this fall when Colleen, Gloria and Richard take off for their different colleges.

Singing Two Years

The "Collettes" began singing together two years ago when they were at Granite City high school. "We were close friends

Leesa Freedman Taking Advanced Math Course

Miss Leesa S. Freedman, 2543 Cleveland Blvd., is one of 40 high school students participating in a month-long accelerated mathematics program at St. Louis University.

The program is designed to further the mathematical interests and competence of talented high school students. This is the eighth year the University has offered the National Science Foundation supported program.

Student participants in the program are nominated by their high school principals or mathematics teachers, and selected on the basis of a competitive mathematics test given by the University and on other criteria. Only students with a minimum of two years of high school mathematics are eligible.

The program is in session from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on weekdays through Aug. 25. Students attend classroom lectures, mathematics laboratories and work daily with the IBM 1650 computer in the University's James Henry Yalem Computer Center. They also make field trips to observe the use of computers in several St. Louis business and industrial firms.

Dr. John J. Andrews, professor of mathematics, is directing the program.

A reception for the students and their parents will be held at the University Thursday, Aug. 24.

The trophy and gavel will remain in Granite City's possession until another chapter claims it by visiting the local chapter.

Ringier represented the chapter in the association's "flower talk" contest held at the Tanager DeMolay chapter at the Belleville Masonic Temple. Don Stucke of Effingham placed first in the contest and will represent southern Illinois in the state contest at the state convocation to be held Aug. 25-27 at Rockford College.

Sunset Hills Clubhouse Bid Opening Aug. 23rd

A bid opening is scheduled for Aug. 23 for construction of the new clubhouse at Sunset Hills Country Club to replace the structure virtually destroyed by fire late last summer.

The proposals are to be opened in the offices of the architects, Keeney & Stolze, 307 Henry street, Alton.

The two-story brick structure is to be located immediately south of the portions of the old clubhouse and annex that remain after last summer's blaze. The new building is to be of contemporary, French provincial design.

Architect Bernard T. Keeney said the contract will be started almost immediately if the country club board accepts a bid, and that the new facilities should be completed by late next summer.

The new location immediately in front of the remaining structure will face the Fifth Hole fairway and will shorten the par four, 455-yard First Hole by about 40 yards.

The design calls for the south portion of the clubhouse to be one story with easy access to the course from new locker rooms and for the second floor area to the north to include a dining room with provision for dancing, the kitchen area and offices.

Diners will have a view of the course, and there will be a porch on the west side of the dining area.

Church of Christ Vacation School

Vacation Bible school will be held at the Glenview Church of Christ, 2825 Maryville road, beginning Aug. 18 and continuing through Aug. 18.

The classes will be held from 7 until 9 each evening for children from the ages 3-16. Further information may be had by calling 831-0401. Rev. James Grady is pastor of the Church.

Two Cars Damaged

Two cars were damaged at 2:40 p.m. Tuesday in a collision at Edwardsville road and McCambridge avenue in Madison, according to a report by Madison police. Officers said a car driven by Elizabeth Fischer, St. Louis, was headed north on McCambridge, and one driven by Lawrence Frazer, 2921 Edwardsville road, was going west on Edwardsville road when the collision occurred. Frazer was charged with driving without a request of the school district driver's license and is to appear for hearing Aug. 16 in magistrate's court.

Court Action Pending in GC Annexation of School Site

Handling a court battle over Granite City's annexation of the Grigsby junior high school site near Pontoon Beach was among four tasks assigned to the city's legal staff by Granite City council members Monday night.

A circuit court notice of quo warranto proceedings filed by Nameoki township to oppose the annexation was read at the meeting and was referred to City Atty. Allen.

The lawyers also were asked to proceed with legal work for an annexation of the 10-acre Maryville school site on Maryville road—also in Nameoki township—and to review the city's house trailer ordinance by the school district and to prepare an amendment to the zoning code.

The annexation of the Grigsby junior high site was carried out in March 1966 by the city at the charged with driving without a request of the school district driver's license and is to appear for hearing Aug. 16 in magistrate's court.

Promotion of two street department employees to the vacant posts of foremen was confirmed Monday night by Granite City council members at the request of Street Sup't William Warfield.

Becoming foremen are Clarence Baker, 2022 Park avenue, dwelling at 2427 Madison avenue, since April 1961, and Lionel Portell, 2838 Michigan avenue, who has been a street employee since May 1949.

Council members also approved a $1000 surety bond for newly-appointed police patrolman Anthony Eck Jr., 2525 Delmar avenue, and authorized Eck to attend a Basic Police Training course given by the state at Champaign. The session will run from Sept. 19 through Oct. 6.

City Changes Junk Council Orders Crackdown Law—Storage Shed On Tall Weeds in City Is Now Required

A crackdown on high weeds in the city was ordered Monday night by Granite City council members after several complaints were voiced by the aldermen.

If necessary, warrants are to be issued by the inspection department against property owners where grass and weeds violate the city's eight-inch law.

The crackdown also is to pertain to out-of-town owners of property here.

City Inspector Jack Fricker told the Press-Record that notices have been sent out to "a large number of property owners" from his office, and that warrants are pending. "We give them 10 days to cut the weeds," he added.

The city has a contractor cutting grass and weeds. "He has been working in the grange area of the city, but we are calling upon him this week to cut weeds in more central areas," Fricker said.

City Could Use MFT For Drainage Project

Granite City may use motor funds to finance its $15,000 share of cost for an enlarged storm water drainage line to run from Nameoki road, outside the city limits, to the Nameoki area drainage ditch at Primrose avenue.

The city has requested the state highway to redesign the proposed 42-inch line to 60 inches so that catchbasins can be added along the way. It was hoped Nameoki township would pay a portion of the costs since nearly half of the intersections to be drained are outside the city limits.

Mayor Partney said he had arranged a meeting in his office several weeks ago with Nameoki township officials, but it was cancelled by them at the last minute.

Alderman Johnson suggested the city advise state highway officials that it is continuing to negotiate a proposal with Nameoki township officials on financing the expanded drainage line. The drainage line is to be installed when the state proceeds with widening Nameoki road from the north city limits to Mitchell. The improvement tentatively is scheduled for next year.

As the other council members continued to object to the transfer, Mayor Partney pointed out that current to the list stations could be cut off for non-payment of the electricity bill. He advised the council that repeated efforts had been made—and rejected by the aldermen—to eliminate the sewer maintenance deficit with an added tax.

Further study by the committee was recommended by Alderman Bartoski and agreed upon by the council.

Rutledge stressed that the transfer would be "merely an accounting procedure," and Comptroller Stevens also added his explanation. Treasurer Rich added that he would not pay any bills from the sewer maintenance account until the deficit was cleared off the books.

Later in the meeting, the council did approve a fund transfer resolution that has been pending for several years. A sum of $89,380 was taken from general funds and placed in the working cash fund. The amount had been spent for repairs to a sewer break in the Nameoki area.

Alderman Totes Fan To Council Meeting

Second Ward Alderman Whitmer was ready for Monday night's 90-degree temperature when he arrived at the council session.

With the city hall air-conditioner still out of action due to a compressor breakdown, Whitmer walked in carrying a large, portable type window fan. Two other fans also were in operation and windows were open—participating insects to invade the third floor meeting room.

Whitmer even brought an extension cord. It was necessary to take down a court document "Notice of Rights of Persons Under Arrest" to get to a wall outlet. The notice was replaced on the wall when Whitmer carried his fan back home after the meeting ended.

Stop Signs and Driveways Under Study by Council

GC Officials to Attend Municipal Convention

Granite City council members voted Monday night to give $125 expense allowances to themselves and any other city officers or officials attending the Illinois Municipal League convention in Springfield Sept. 23-26.

There was no indication Monday night on the number of city officials who will attend the 54th IML conference. Mayor Partney asked those interested to notify his secretary so that reservations may be made.

Traffic Signal Change

John Strange, Kokomo, Ind., was charged with a traffic signal violation Monday at Johnson and Nameoki roads.

A stop sign was authorized Monday night by Granite City council members for northbound traffic on Maryville road at Stratford lane.

The sign will be placed practically on the eastern boundary of the city. Fines for violation will range from $5 to $100.

Requests were made for ordinances to be prepared for stop signs to control north-south traffic on Maryville road at St. Clair avenue and for a no-parking zone on the north side of 28th street from Benton street east to the alley between Benton and Cleveland blvd.

Approval was given by the city, pending on OK from the state highway department, for two driveways to be joined at Barney's Brake and Wheel garage, 2311 Madison avenue.

Street committee chairman Ford Johnson asked that negotiations be resumed to obtain right-of-way to extend the dual roadway of Wabash avenue at Johnson road.

Referred to the committee was a request by James Green Construction Co. to excavate Johnson road immediately east of Nameoki road for a sewer connection for the Cochran office building under construction.

Another driveway request was approved for St. Margaret Mary Church off St. Clair avenue near the drainage ditch to provide access to the rear yard of the convent.

Placed on file was a letter from Edwin Alles, assistant district engineer of the state highway department, French Village, denying the city's request for parking to be allowed along recently widened Maryville road in the city limits north of Pontoon road.

Alderman Johnson called for copies of Alles' letter to distribute them to residents in the three-block area who have requesting parking be permitted.

In the letter, the highway official said it was a state policy to prohibit parking along such residential streets as a safety precaution. He noted that if parking was permitted, a child could dash into the street from parked cars and be killed or injured seriously.

Johnson said the state should follow the policy everywhere and not just select certain streets. He did recall that the state men. "It's not fair. After all, a new employee and not those already on jobs.

Whitmer closed the discussion, saying the committee and police department are to meet this week to go over the regulations before presenting them to the council for approval.

A request was presented by Alderman Basarich for police to tour Niedringhaus avenue between 7:30 and 8 a.m. and at 4:30 p.m. in the vicinity of the Army Depot to prevent traffic tie-ups and congestion.

Alderman Fry commented that several months ago the council met in a private session after a fatal accident involving a school crossing guard, and it was decided then that eye tests and physical examinations should be required.

Several aldermen commented that the tests were to certain new employees and not those already on jobs.

Seeding Perennials

Many choice bi-annuals like fox glove, and perennials like delphinium can be started from seed in August.

Off-season rains are creating an ideal situation for starting new plants. Because they are perennials, only a few plants are desired. Choose a well drained area where you can frequently weed and water. Plant the seed in rows, so identification is easy. Many look like common weeds when seedlings.

When the seedlings have two true leaves, they need transplanting. Careful watering and weeding will promote the necessary growth for next year's flowers. Most perennials require a cold period to produce flowers. But the cooling will not work on small seedlings. This certain stage relates to size, not age.

This is an ideal time to plan next year's flower garden, and plan out some old varieties and disappointing species. Try some of the new hybrid delphinium and hollyhocks, or some of the old favorites like canterberry bells or fox glove. For a pamphlet on perennials contact the local Cooperative Extension Service office or the Federal Extension Service, Washington, D. C. for the U. S. Home Garden Potatoes

Many garden potatoes are ready for harvest, reports Chris Doll, area horticulturist, Edwarsville.

The question of whether to dig early or leave in the ground for another six weeks depends on the weather and how you store them. In most years, it is better to leave them in the ground. This is especially true if they are mulched with straw. When the soil conditions are extremely dry and hot, potatoes are better off in a cool storage.

Poisoning from Pesticides

Only 6.5% of all reported poisoning of children is due to pesticides, reports Prof. Roscoe Randall, Extension Entomologist, University of Illinois. Randall summarized information from 1962-66 to learn rat poison was the chief villain among pesticides. Ant baits were second. Moth ball were another major item.

During this five-year summary only 16 were fatalities from 726 reported poisonings. A six year average of 2.5 fatalities per year compared to 12 fatalities due to aspirin and 81 per year from drugs.

Prof. Randall feels more careful use of rat and ant baits and mothballs will reduce these fatalities. Half of these sixteen fatalities were caused by baits.

How can we reduce these accidental poisonings? By using baits where children cannot find them. Careful storage of woolens in sealed containers so the mothballs will not be found and eaten. Store pesticides under lock and key and last, destroy the empty packages and cans.

What's Happening to Grass

Rains and hot weather is causing clumps of dead grass to appear in lawns. And at the exact time to expect sod webworm, too.

But these dead clumps or small patches are rotted grass, not chewed off by webworm and grubs.

The only way to be sure is careful inspection of several plants. Look for chewed off roots, then search the soil for grubs. When the plants are chewed off at the crown (well below the mower cut) then search for nearby tunnels or depressions for webworms. When neither is common, but the plants are rotted, then suspect melting out disease.

Usually the loss occurs in small irregular patches. When prolonged wet periods occur, large areas may turn yellow, similar to drouth. Usually watering aggravates the problem. Fungicides will help, but require repeated treatments. Thatch buildups seem to be often asso-

Heart Disease Quickie Quiz

How much do you know about heart disease? Test yourself by taking the following true or false test:

1. "High-living"—that is, over-indulgence in eating and drinking—can cause heart disease.
2. Teart murmurs and occasional skipping of heart beats are common symptoms of heart disease.
3. High blood pressure indicates a serious heart condition.
4. Heart disease is often signaled by sharp pain in the left side of the chest.
5. Heart patients should remain in bed and avoid any type of effort.

Now, let's see how you scored.

ciated with the problem.

Wasps and Hornets

These insects sometime nest in shrubs or nearby buildings where they create a hazard to outside living. All of these insects are sensitive to DDT.

If control is necessary use a pressurized insecticide bomb at night. One long blast into the nest, and another over the outside will destroy the colony within a day.

If honey bees are involved, then contact an exterminator or a local bee keeper. Never attempt to destroy a honeybee swarm.

You're well-informed if you answered:

1. False. While overindulgence may aggravate a pre-existing heart condition, it is not likely to cause it. The heart's work is increased during digestion, so the more you eat or drink, the harder it works. This extra work won't strain a healthy heart, but can be over-taxing to one weakened by disease.

2. False. A normal heart may produce "accidental" or "innocent" murmurs which aren't caused by structural defects. They don't interfere with your heart's efficiency and require no treatment. Similarly, the heart may occasionally skip a beat, or beat faster or slower than usual.

3. False. High blood pressure is an abnormal state of the circulation. Four of every five cases of persistently high blood pressure are known as primary or essential hypertension, for which no underlying cause can be identified. To the heart disease patient, the condition of his heart and arteries—and their ability to withstand pressure—is more important.

4. False. A pain in the left side of the chest is more likely caused by excessive acid and muscular spasm in the digestive tract.

5. Only in advance cases is it necessary for the patient to remain in bed. Otherwise, his morale—as well as his physical condition—will suffer from lack of activity.
